End User License Agreement

This agreement covers what OptiExpress gives you — the website and your account, the written recap from your session, and any configuration files or scripts a technician leaves on your PC.

Last updated October 16, 2026

1. Parties and acceptance

This End User License Agreement ("Agreement") is between you and OptiExpress, 5712 Tomas Morato St., Quezon City, Metro Manila, Philippines. You accept it by creating an account, booking a session, or using any of the materials described below. It applies together with our Terms of Service.

2. What this Agreement covers

- The website at optiexpress.tools and your account area.
- The written recap your technician sends after a session (the "Recap").
- Any configuration files, profiles, scripts, or settings exports a technician creates or places on your PC during a session (the "Session Files").

3. Your license

OptiExpress grants you a personal, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use the Recap and the Session Files on the PC that was optimized, for your own use, for as long as you like. You may keep them, use them to reverse the changes they describe, and share the Recap with someone who is helping you with that PC.

4. What you may not do

- Resell, redistribute, or publish the Recap or Session Files, or offer them as part of a paid service.
- Remove OptiExpress's name from them or present them as your own work.
- Copy, scrape, or reuse the website's content, design, or code.
- Use the website or your account to interfere with the service or to access another user's data.

5. Third-party software

Windows, GPU drivers, AnyDesk, game launchers, and games remain licensed to you by their owners under their own terms. Nothing in this Agreement changes those licenses. OptiExpress does not supply, modify, or license any third-party software; technicians adjust settings in software you already have.

6. Ownership

OptiExpress keeps all rights in the website, the OptiExpress name and logo, and the format and text of the Recap and Session Files. Your personal data remains yours and is handled under our Privacy Policy.

7. As-is materials

The Recap and Session Files are provided as-is for the PC they were made on. They reflect your hardware and software at the time of the session; applying them to another PC or after major system changes may not have the same effect. Back up anything important before applying changes.

8. Termination

This license ends if you breach it. OptiExpress may also suspend or close an account used in breach of this Agreement or the Terms of Service. Ending the license does not require you to undo changes already made to your PC.

9. Governing law

This Agreement is governed by the laws of the Republic of the Philippines. Any dispute is brought before the competent courts of Quezon City, Metro Manila, unless the law gives you the right to bring it elsewhere.
